Federal Financial Aid – Pell Grants

Federal Pell Grants are for undergraduates with financial need who have not earned a bachelor’s or professional degree by July 1 of the new Department of Education award year (July 1, 2015 – June 30, 2016). Students can receive Pell Grants for no more than 12 semesters or the equivalent (approximately 6 years). The maximum Pell Grant that may be awarded during the award year July 1, 2015 – June 30, 2016 for a 600-hour program is $3,820 prorated. All Pell Grant awards are derived from the financial aid reports generated by the financial information provided by students on the FAFSA application. Pell grants do not have to be repaid.

Federal Financial Aid – Subsidized Student Loan

Federal Direct Loans must be repaid with interest. Eligibility for subsidized loans are need-based and available to student who are enrolled at least ½ time at an eligible institution. Subsidized loans are for undergraduate students only and the U.S. Department of Education pays the interest accrued while the borrower is in school and during grace and deferment periods. The interest rate for award year 2014-16 is 4.66%. The maximum Subsidized Direct Loan for the award year 2014-15 for a 600-hour program is $3,666 prorated for both dependent and independent students.

Aggregate Loan limits for Subsidized Student Loans = total lifetime borrowing limit $23,000.

Federal Financial Aid – Unsubsidized Student Loan

Federal Direct Loans must be repaid with interest. Eligibility for subsidized loans are not need-based and available to student who are enrolled at least ½ time at an eligible institution. Unsubsidized loans are for undergraduate and graduate students and the borrower is responsible for all interest accrued on the loan. The interest rate for award year 2015-16 is 4.66% for undergraduate and 6.21% for graduate/professional students.

The maximum Subsidized Direct Loan for the award year 2015-16 for a 600-hour program for a student whose status on their financial aid application is listed as “dependent” is $1,333 prorated.

The maximum Subsidized Direct Loan for the award year 2015-16 for a 600-hour program for an Independent student is $2,000 prorated for a student whose status on their financial aid application is listed as “independent”. (Maximum subsidized loan based on a 900-hour academic year = $3,000).

How to Apply for Federal Financial Aid

Students can apply for financial aid by filling out the FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) online application, which can be found at https://fafsa.ed.gov/. Follow the online instructions for obtaining a PIN number if you have not already applied for one in the recent past. Students will be asked to provide their own financial information and that of their parents. The Dept. of Education FAFSA application now has the DRT (direct retrieval tool), which is linked to the IRS website. Students are encouraged to use the DRT whenever possible in order to facilitate the processing of their financial aid report.

National Personal Training Institute (Illinois location only) Federal School Code ID --- 042507

Please use this school code on the FAFSA when you are required to list the schools where you would like your financial aid report sent.

Students may have their financial aid information sent to the school at any time. However, NPTI – will only process financial aid for students who have submitted their registration form along with the refundable $75.00 fee. Registration may be completed online @ http://nationalpti.edu or by calling the main office 1-800-960-6294 and registering by phone.

Approximately 48 hours after submitting the FAFSA application the student will receive an SAR (Student Aid Report) from the Dept. of Education, which will give a summary of the information submitted along with an estimate of the aid for which the student may be eligible. Please note that SAR reports only give estimates based on a 900-hour academic school year. All financial aid awarded by NPTI is prorated for a 600-hour academic school year.

If the student’s application is selected for verification or the financial aid department finds other discrepancies with the student’s ISIR report, the student will be notified in writing by e-mail that some corrections or clarifications are needed. It is the responsibility of the student to make the necessary corrections to their FAFSA online or provide the additional information requested by the financial aid department before the process can move forward and before any financial aid can be awarded.
Process for Awarding Aid

Once the student’s application has been verified and their financial aid eligibility has been established, the financial aid director will prepare an award letter. Financial aid is awarded based on a combination of the student’s EFC (expected family contribution) versus the COA (cost of attendance) to establish what type of financial need the student has. The COA is based on whether a student is considered to be “Independent” or “Dependent” (in the care of his/her parents) and the length of the program (6 or 12 months). The COA budgetary numbers are derived from a survey of NPTI’s student body and the average cost of housing, personal expenses and transportation costs for the Lisle, IL area.

The student (and their parent if applicable) will be notified of their award letter and an appointment will be set up to go over the student aid being offered. A tentative award letter will be presented and explained in detail to the student. The student must choose which amounts that he/she wishes to accept for financial aid. A student is not required to accept all of the aid offered. The student will be asked to sign off on each item of student aid offered and accepted. The original signed award letter will be kept on file at the school and a copy will be issued to the student.

Entrance Counseling and Completing the Master Promissory Note

If part of the student loan package consists of direct subsidized or unsubsidized loans, the student will be provided with additional information. They will need to visit the website https://studentloans.gov and complete the entrance counseling and then the master promissory note. When both of those items are completed, the student will notify the financial aid office at the school so that the financial aid process can continue.

Exit Counseling

Exit counseling is required and should be completed no later than 30 days after the student’s last day of attendance. Exit counseling may be done at the school with a financial aid officer, online at the same website: http://www.studentloans.gov or by completing the exit counseling brochure, which can be provided to the student by someone in the financial aid department of the school. Students must provide a current mailing address, email address, telephone number and the name and telephone number of a related parent or sibling prior to graduation.

Loan Repayment, Deferment and Forbearance

Student loans have a 6 month grace period before payments are expected to begin. This grace period applies to any time a student leaves the school due to either graduating from the program, by leaving the school (either withdrawal or termination) or by dropping below ½ time. Repayment schedules and information on deferment and forbearance can be found at http://www.studentloans.gov.

If a student wishes for their current loans to go into deferment while they are enrolled at NPTI, the student should contact their loan service and notify them of their re-enrollment in an eligible institutions. The loan servicer will send documents to NPTI to ask for verification that the student is indeed enrolled in our program and for what length of time. The Financial Aid Director will fill these papers out and return them to the student. It is the student’s responsibility to send those deferment forms to their loan servicer.

The National Student Loan Data System

The National Student Loan Data System (NSLDS) is operated by the Dept. of Education for the purpose of tracking all student loan data. This data is provided by the schools where students are currently enrolled as well as loan servicers. Students, upon acceptance of student loans, will be added to the NSLDS monitoring list by the financial aid department of the school. Students who wish to access NSLDS will need their social security number and the PIN number that they were assigned at the beginning of the financial aid application process and go to www.nslds.gov to access their account.

Distribution of Aid to Students

National Personal Training Institute is a 600 clock hour program and as such is eligible to receive financial aid disbursements in 2 installments; the first installment during 0 – 300 hours of student attendance and the second installment when the student completes his/her 301st hour of attendance and is demonstrating satisfactory academic progress (SAP). Satisfactory academic progress is defined as a student maintaining a 90% attendance rate and a minimum GPA of 2.0. Further details about SAP can be obtained on page 4 of NPTI’s school catalog. Please refer to page 4 & 5 of NPTI’s school catalog for details on re-establishing SAP if a student has been placed on either academic or attendance probation.

Pell Grants are issued after the first day of class provided the student has signed in to class on the attendance sheet as an active student. Loans have a mandatory waiting period of 30 days for the first installment. Grants and loans will be credited to the students account first to cover the cost of tuition and fees during that first payment period. Any credit balance remaining will be disbursed to the student within 14 days via check from the school to the student or the person responsible for securing the loan (i.e. parents in regards to Parent PLUS loans). In the event that a student withdraws, is terminated or falls below ½ time enrollment, all further grant and loan requests will be cancelled.

Borrower’s Rights and Responsibilities

Student borrower of federal funds has the right to:

- Written information on your loan obligations and information on your rights and responsibilities as a borrower.
- A grace period and an explanation of what this means.
• A disclosure statement, received before you begin to repay your loan, that includes information about interest rates, fees, the balance you owe, and the number of payments.
• Deferment of repayment for certain defined periods, if you qualify and if you request it.
• Forbearance, if you qualify and if you request it.
• Prepayment of your loan in whole or in part any time without an early repayment penalty.
• A copy of your promissory note before or at the time your loan is disbursed.
• If they are in a grace period or repayment period, there will be notification no later than 45 days after a lender assigns, sells or transfers your loan to another lender.
• Documentation that your loan(s) are paid in full.

Student borrower of federal funds has the responsibility to:

• Complete entrance counseling prior to signing up for the master promissory note.
• Complete exit counseling before you leave school or enroll less than half time.
• Repay your loan even if you do not complete your academic program, you are dissatisfied with the education you received, or you are unable to find employment after you graduate.
• Notify your school and the Lender/Loan Servicing Center if you move/change your address, plan to withdrawal from school or drop below ½ time, transfer to another school, fail to enroll or re-enroll for the period in which the loan was intended or change your expected date of graduation.
• Make monthly payments on your loan(s) after you leave school, unless you have a deferment or a forbearance.
• Notify the Lender/Loan Servicing Center of anything that might alter your eligibility for an existing deferment.

Student Loan Default – The following is portion of the information as it is presented on the Federal Financial Aid website. Please refer to the following information on the Dept. of Education’s Student Aid information website for additional details.

https://studentaid.ed.gov/repay-loans/default#consequences

The consequences of default can be severe:
• The entire unpaid balance of your loan and any interest is immediately due and payable.
• You lose eligibility for deferment, forbearance, and repayment plans.
• You lose eligibility for additional federal student aid.
• Your loan account is assigned to a collection agency.
• The loan will be reported as delinquent to credit bureaus, damaging your credit rating. This will affect your ability to buy a car or house or to get a credit card.
• Your federal and state taxes may be withheld through a tax offset. This means that the Internal Revenue Service can take your federal and state tax refund to collect any of your defaulted student loan debt.
• Your student loan debt will increase because of the late fees, additional interest, court costs, collection fees, attorney’s fees, and any other costs associated with the collection process.
• Your employer (at the request of the federal government) can withhold money from your pay and send the money to the government. This process is called wage garnishment.
• The loan holder can take legal action against you, and you may not be able to purchase or sell assets such as real estate.
• Federal employees face the possibility of having 15% of their disposable pay offset by their employer toward repayment of their loan through Federal Salary Offset.
• It will take years to reestablish your credit and recover from default.

Financial Aid Penalties for Drug Law Violations
Additional facts may be obtained by reading FAFSA Facts published at the following link: https://studentaid.ed.gov/eligibility/criminal-convictions#drug-convictions

According to the U.S. Department of Education, if a student if convicted of a drug-related felony or misdemeanor that took place while he/she was receiving Federal student aid, the student will become ineligible to receive further aid for a specified period of conviction. Students are considered to be “receiving aid” beginning on the day that classes start for any term that they have applied for or been approved for and for which they have accepted federal student financial aid. Drug convictions for either a Federal or State offense do not count if the offense occurred during a period of enrollment when the student was not receiving financial aid.

The period of ineligibility can be shortened if the student:
• Successfully completes an approved drug rehabilitation program that includes passing two unannounced drug tests, or
• Passes 2 unannounced drug tests administered by an approved drug rehabilitation program or
• Has the conviction reversed, set aside, or otherwise rendered invalid.

The length of time the student is ineligible depends on whether the conviction was for sale or possession and whether the student had previous offenses. See table below.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Offense</th>
<th>Possession of Illegal Drugs</th>
<th>Sale of Illegal Drugs</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>First</td>
<td>1 year of ineligibility from date of conviction</td>
<td>2 years of ineligibility from date of conviction</td>

<td>Indefinite period of ineligibility*</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Third</td>

<td>Indefinite period of ineligibility*</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

*Under the law, an indefinite period of ineligibility continues unless the conviction is overturned or otherwise rendered invalid or the student meets one of the 2 early reinstatement requirements specified above.

Note: A conviction received when the student was a juvenile does not count unless he/she was tried as an adult.
Other Lenders and Financial Arrangements

In the marketing packet, NPTI provides a list of other banks and lenders where students may obtain loans. However, we recommend that students explore the possibility of receiving a Federal Direct Student Loan due to the lower interest rates (4.66% for undergraduate degrees in award year 2015-16). NPTI also makes available a no interest payment plan whereby the balance of any unpaid tuition is spread out over the length of the program in which the student is enrolled. Students can also opt for the extended payment plan. Note: If the student completes the actual academic portion or the program in either the 6 or 12 month program length, their diplomas and transcripts will be held until all the financial obligations of the payment plan has been met. Further, there are no penalties for student who wish to accelerate their payment plans and pay off their financial obligations before the end of their academic enrollment period. The refund policy explained in the School’s catalog as well as the enrollment agreement will still be observed.

United States Department of Veterans Affairs Programs

NPTI is approved to participate in the veteran’s educational and rehabilitation programs. We accept funding from the following:

- Chapter 33 --- Post 9/11
- Chapter 31 --- Vocational Rehabilitation
- Chapter 35 --- Survivors’ and Dependents Education Assistance
- Chapter 30 --- Montgomery GI-Bill/Active Duty Educational Assistance
- Chapter 1606 --- Montgomery GI-Bill/Selected Reserve Educational Assistance
- Chapter 1607 --- Montgomery GI-Bill/Selected Reserve Educational Assistance
- MyCAA --- Military Career Advancement Accounts (Military spouse tuition assistance)

Students enrolled in the 6 month Day class or the 6 month Monday/Wednesday/Saturday combo classes are considered to be full-time students. Veterans enrolled in the 12 month class are considered to be 50% (or ½ time).

Veterans who are considered to be enrolled in NPTI’s certified personal training program and are receiving a monthly base housing allowance stipend must maintain a 90% attendance rate for the month prior to the issuance of the housing allowance check. Students will be given 30 days to amend their attendance. Any student who falls below the required attendance rate and does not make-up those hours will be reported to the Veterans Administration through the VA-ONCE system and their benefits will be adjusted accordingly until their attendance has been brought back up to the required level. During the enrollment contract process, a detailed document explaining the additional requirements is given to any student who has been approved for veteran’s benefits and a signed copy is kept in their registration file.
